This practical training will help you build positive, trusting, healing relationships with individuals who have experienced trauma.

Trauma-informed care is important to connecting sensitively with children and adults who have been exposed to challenging backgrounds. An understanding of trauma, attachment, and healing techniques of interacting can help us serve individuals and families better. At the center of all interactions are relationships. This practical training will demonstrate how healing can happen in the context of trusting relationships.

We will learn:

- How to create a safe environment
- How to identify underlying needs
- How to connect and build trust
- Practical ways to deal with behavioral issues
- And much more!!
